T360 Assessment

“According to the evaluation, my best appreciated abilities as a team leader are those related to teamwork and leadership in general. However, my self-assessment shows that I put a lot of effort in planning future activities and how to imply every team member in its implementation”.

The Outcome

With T360 Eniko managed to see that she is on the right track with her team and that she should be more confident while it comes to her leading abilities.

Results and Future Plans

As other managers participating in our evaluation, Eniko says that she will make sure to create visibility for and to let people know about T360.
